January 22-25, 2018
Jeju, Korea

Aims of the Exhibitions:

ADP-DAC 2018 is the 23rd annual international conference on VLSI design automation in Asia and South Pacific regions, one of the most active regions of design and fabrication of silicon chips in the world. The conference exhibition aims at providing the industrial and academic sponsors with opportunities of presenting their innovative works related to Electronic Design Automation (EDA) and VLSI designs. The exhibition will run for three days (from Tuesday to Thursday), and the exhibition area is located in the heart of ICC JEJU. To attract more visitors to the exhibition, ASP-DAC will hold lucky draws only for the exhibition visitors.
